

CANADA SEIZES ELEVATOR WHEAT
HELD FOR CORNER

Twenty-Million Bushels Held at Fort William and Port Arthur Commandeered

CORNER IS NIPPED IN BUD

It Is Expected Millions of Bushels Will Now Be Thrown Upon the Market

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 29.— It is officially reported here that the government seized the twenty million bushels of wheat Saturday for Italy. The purchase was made through Great Britain, the price being $1.04 3/4.

WINNIPEG, Manitoba, Nov. 29.— The grain trade of Canada is paral-yzed as the Canadian government has commandeered all No. 1, 2 and 3 northern wheat in terminal elevators at Fort William and Port Arthur, some 20,000,000 bushels. It is understood that this action was taken at the request of the British government.

In a government statement made public tonight it was stated the only seizures made were in the terminals at Fort William and Port Arthur and in the eastern terminals. The object was to stop all fixing of prices.

Speculators Foiled

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 29.—The unexpected action of the Canadian government in commandeering twenty million bushels of high grade wheat spoiled carefully laid plans of speculators to corner the wheat market, it was reported here today.

May Take Over More

It is possible the 150,000,000 bushels of export surplus held by farmers and dealers west of Port William will be taken over by the government. But several officials said today they believed the government's action on Saturday night would have such a salutary effect upon the speculators that no further steps would be necessary.

Learned of Corner Plot

It is understood the government learned of the plans to corner the market a few weeks ago. The step taken Saturday night, it is believed, will result in millions of bushels of wheat being thrown on the market almost immediately by big dealers, who fear a second order will take over their supplies.

The government has not yet fixed the price to be paid for the wheat seized, but it is stated that owners will be dealt with fairly.

Canes Discussion in Pitt

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—There was some difference of opinion in the wheat pit today as to how the seizure would affect the local market.
Some thought prices would begin to soar with the clang of the opening gong and remain sharply higher until the start of the next crop. Others expressed opinion that while there might be considerably higher prices at first, ultimately conditions would settle down to normal. Some argued the seizure would make for lower prices.

"I do not look for a quick change in American prices," said Joseph Rosenbaum, head of the big J. Rosenbaum company. "Vessels are not available even if Americans hold contracts. This will deter speculators."

Sees Drop

George E. Marcy, head of the Armour company, said he believed the Canadian government's action would release much grain for immediate release.

"HOLY TERRORS" SIGHS
MR. LIEN WHEN "GANG" CLEANS UP PLAYGROUND

Revolution broke out at Fourteenth and Main streets Saturday morning. A score of small boys held a mass-meeting, and appeared shortly thereafter on the corner lot of C. L. Lien with axes, rakes and baskets.
By noon the broken glass with which the north side druggist had covered the neighborhood playground was gone, the fence he had built across the "short-cut" was also gone, his barbed wire entanglement was torn up, and the tree he felled across the pitcher's box was chopped into little pieces and had likewise disappeared. Saturday afternoon games were in progress as usual.

"Those boys in the neighborhood are holy terrors," sighed the owner to a TRIBUNE reporter this morning. "I don't know what I'll do now."

Until spring, at least, the boys have won, although Mr. Lien said today that he's just as much opposed to their playing on his property as when he spread the broken glass and brush.

"They'll have to stop tearing down my bank and dirtying up the walks," said the druggist, "but it's getting late for me to do anything this fall.
They won't play there much longer this winter, and I'll decide what I'm going to do by spring."

"You know, those boys don't seem to have any respect for property, at all. It don't make any difference whose it is. They seem to think that's a city playground. They even carried away the lumber in my fence and the wood of that tree they chopped up."

HILLVIEW TO ASK CAR SERVICE TO THE CITY LIMITS

Petition Is Circulated Today for Presentation to the City Council

RECALLS D. C. JONES' OLD FIGHT

He Took It Up Before Rate Commission and Won the First Round but Order Was Modified

Winter's coming on. The wind blows across the prairies at the foot of the bluffs with a nose-ringing and car-freezing velocity. It's a long walk from Eighteenth street to the homes in Hillview addition. So the proposition put up to the railroad rate commission by D. C. Jones, 782 North Twenty-fourth street, last year, is to be re-opened by his neighbors, who want the street car company to run its cars out as far as Twenty-fifth street on the Oak Grove cemetery line.

A petition was drawn up today for presentation to the council at its December meeting Friday of this week, asking that the street car company be required to maintain regular service to Twenty-fifth street.
William G. Haebich, florist, North Twenty-fourth street, is the prime mover in the new campaign. He was circulating the petition today. He expects to obtain a score of signers from among his neighbors before presenting the petition to the aldermen.

Haebich's petition recalls the fight conducted by D. C. Jones a year ago before the railroad rate commission.
He demanded all year service to Twenty-fifth street on the Oak Grove line, and his demand was endorsed by the commission, but their order was later modified so that the all-year service need be installed only at the order of the city council. Mr. Haebich said today.

At present, according to Mr. Haebich, La Crosse street cars are running only as far as Eighteenth street.

PEACE SHIP NAMED AFTER KING WHO STOOD FOR PEACE

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Henry Ford's peace ship will sail under a lucky omen next Saturday, on its mission to "bring the boys out of the trenches."

Louis P. Lochner, secretary of the National Peace federation, discovered today that Oscar II, name of the peace liner, was also the name of a Swedish king famous for his stand for peace.

Ford telephoned his peace headquarters from Detroit today that he would arrive here Thursday morning, ready to join the peace party. While it is understood that The Hague will be the meeting place of the peace conference, that matter has not been settled definitely, Lochner said. It is possible Ford will provide accommodations on other liners for delegates who are unable to reach New York in time to sail on the Oscar II.

CAPT. I. H. MOULTON FRACTURES HIP ON HIS ANNIVERSARY

Falls in Room at Mrs. Burton's Home Sunday Evening at Close of 87th Birthday

NOW AT ST. FRANCIS HOSPITAL

Pioneer and River Veteran Is Reported to Be Resting Comfortably There
This Morning

Capt. I. H. Moulton, dean of La Crosse pioneers, fractured his right hip yesterday, the result of a fall.
The day was Captain Moulton's eighty-seventh anniversary.

The accident happened at 7 p. m.
Captain Moulton was in his room at the residence of his daughter, Mrs.
Abbie Burton, 1018 Cass street. Mrs.
Joseph W. Skinner, another daughter, alone was at home. The cause of the fall is unknown. Hearing her father call, Mrs. Skinner hastened to his apartment and found the captain on the floor, unable to rise.

Summoned by Mrs. Skinner, over the telephone, Mr. Skinner hastened home, accompanied by Dr. R. E.
Flynn, and Dr. Edward Evans, the family physician, followed immediately. Captain Moulton remained at the Burton residence last night, and was taken to St. Francis hospital today. He is resting with no great discomfort.

This morning, when Mr. Skinner called upon his father-in-law, the indomitable spirit of the river veteran was still at the wheel. Replying to Mr. Skinner's inquiry regarding his condition, this redoubtable war horse of the G. O. P. cheerfully announced:

"I can lick seventeen democrats in seventeen minutes. Bring 'em on."

MILL CITY BANK ROBBED

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 29.— Armed with automatic pistols, three bandits at 11:20 a. m. today held up and robbed the Camden Park State Bank, securing $1,700 in cash.

The bank is in the center of a suburban business district. The robbery was one of the boldest in the history of the city.

HORSES' BODIES

Horrors of Starvation Grow

Trail Says

THOUSANDS FACED BY DEATH

They Make for Monastir Which Is Expected Soon to Fall to the Bulgarians

BY WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
SALONIKA, Nov. 27.—(Delayed.) —Vulture-like, starving refugees are stripping the flesh from the bodies of horses that have perished along the road in their mad flight before the Bulgarian armies.

The horrors of the Albanian trail are growing. Women and children, struggling along the whole route from Prizerend to Monastir without food, are now facing a biting blizard that has been sweeping the whole region for two days and nights.

When the snow curtain lifts, the corpses of hundreds of humans who gave up the struggle almost certainly will be found.

Each new contingent of refugees arriving here brings fresh stories of the awful tragedies of the Prizer-end-Monastir highway, over which a stream of Albanians, Serbians and fifty thousand Austrian prisoners are making their way.

Men, who have gone without food for many hours, are staggering along the rough road. Women with little children are making their way through the snow, camping at night beside pitiful little fires of mountain shrubs.

Monastir is the goal of the caravan of refugees, who hope to obtain food and rest there. They do not know that Monastir must fall within a few days, leaving them cut off and forced to choose between the winter blizards of the Albanian mountains and the Bulgarian bands.

Glandsborough Findlay, his wife, Lady Sibyl Findlay, and a party of sixteen English nurses and eight doctors, arrived here today. They had waited for seven days through snow and mud along the Albanian mountain trail. They had been entirely without food, except for a little bread commandeered by the authorities.

They told stories of the terrible ravages of hunger among the straggling refugees. On their last day on the trail the Findlays passed the bodies of three men, their faces pinched into horrible death masks by starvation. Fifteen of their twenty pack mules died of starvation on the road.

The world must prepare to shudder," said one of the party, "when what is happening along the Albanian refuge trail comes to light."

The Serbian army is retreating toward Elbassan as the Bulgarians press closer to the refugee line.
Twenty British motor cars, laden with flour, are now fighting their way toward Dibra, hoping to be in time to alleviate the sufferings of the starving.

Transportation Is Problem

They can carry supplies only a short distance, however, pack mules must finish the tedious journey.

It was reported here today that the families of the French, British and Russian ministers to Serbia are somewhere on the trail, struggling to reach Monastir. Efforts are being made to reach them.

KAISER'S FORCES PUT ON BASIS OF OPPOSING RUSSIANS IN BALKANS

CRAFT CHARTERED
TO SUPPLY SHIPS OF GERMAN EMPIRE

Signed Agreement to That Effect Introduced as Testimony at Trial

TWO VESSELS WERE SECURED

The Agreement Read That Any Loss Incidental to Work Would Be Paid

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Direct admission that vessels chartered by the Hamburg-American line were to be used for transferring supplies of war ships at sea was made in an agreement signed by Karl Bueenz, managing director of the company, introduced as evidence at the trial of the four Hamburg-American officials today.

The agreement, made with owners of the steamers Fram and Sommer-stadt, guaranteed them against loss in event of damage while transfering supplies to warships of the empire of Germany.

Ralph J. M. Bullowa, the New York attorney who was counsel for captains of the steamers, was recalled to the stand today.

Bullowa identified an agreement between the captains of these vessels and Adolph Hochmeister, one of the defendants.

The agreement, in Hochmeister's own handwriting and signed by Bueenz included the following clause:
"In case of damage to vessels by reason of attempt to transfer cargoes to the warships of the empire of Germany, the Hamburg-American line will be responsible for all damage and demurrage during repairs."

On cross-examination Bullowa admitted that he was still acting as counsel for owners of the steamers Neptos and Mowinkle who have litigation pending involving the same issues involved in connection with the Fram and Sommerstadt.

William Rand, Jr., chief counsel for the defense, sought to show Bul-lowa an interested witness.

Rand drew from Bullowa an admission that he (Bullowa) insisted on the agreement in order that he might have written evidence of the ships' real destination. Bullowa admitted that his clients, even after the agreement was drawn, refused to permit the Fram and Sommerstadt to make the voyage.

"You kept both the papers and the ships?" asked Rand.

"Yes," said Bullowa.

The government rested its case today.

Court adjourned until tomorrow after the government announced its evidence was in. The defense will move that the court instruct a verdict of not guilty at the opening of tomorrow's session. Arguments on the motion will occupy the forenoon.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—The government today was forced to admit that it does not consider Captain Boy-Ed, German naval attaché, a conspirator with Hamburg-American officials in the scheme to furnish German warships with supplies from American ports.

The admission was wrung from Assistant U. S. Attorney Wood, after a wordy battle in the trial of the steamship line officials. Attorney Rand for the defendants objected to further introduction of evidence regarding the steamer Mara Quezada with which Boy-Ed was said to have been connected.

CONGRESS WORKS
KERN IS ELECTED
CAUCUS CHAIRMAN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Machinery of the sixty-fourth congress, which convenes next Monday, got slowly into motion today. Harmony marked two democratic conferences.
Family differences were avoided.

The democratic senators held their initial caucus and unanimously re-elected Senator Kern caucus chairman. Only nine of the fifty-six democratic senators, Bryan, Broussard, Culbertson, Lane, Lea, Lewis, Martine, Shively and Smith of South Carolina, were absent. Consideration of cloture was postponed.

Democrats of the house ways and means committee also met and started preliminary drafting of committee slates. Agreement for satisfactory division of committee places with the republicans was reached.

In neither conferences were vital questions of party policy raised. The senate democrats adjourned until Wednesday, when the rules committee will present the cloture plan and Kern will announce a steering committee.

IT IS EXPECTED
SLAVS WILL PUSH THROUGH RUMANIA

Czar Thought Determined to Make Rumania a Second Belgium or Serbia

RUMANIA MAY JOIN ALLIES

Little Choice Is Given Her, It Is Considered, on Casting Her Fortunes

PARIS, Nov. 29.—Germany is rushing preparations today to resist a Russian attacks in the Balkans.
The kaiser evidently has decided the czar is about to strike. The moment this happens, it seems certain Rumania will be swept by just such a Teutonic flood as has passed over Belgium and Serbia.

All their preparations show the Russians will enter the Balkan field by a rush through Rumanian territory into Bulgaria. The Germans apparently propose to meet the invasion frontally, on the Bulgarian frontier, and to attack the Russians from the westward on the flank.

The flank attack will make a vast battleground of all central and western Rumania. Only a narrow strip on the Black sea coast can hope to escape. If the fight on the Bulgarian frontier goes against the czar's forces the tide must sweep across Rumania from the southward. This will mean the devastation of even the eastern region.

Rumania to Join Allies

Signs have multiplied in the last two days that Rumania will join the allies. As diplomats here see the situation she has little choice. The czar is believed to be resolved to cross her soil with or without consent. The Balkan situation is too serious to permit delay. He is bound by no treaty, such as guaranteed Belgium's neutrality. Several hundred thousand of his troops are massed on the frontier in southern Bessarabia. The British, French and what is left of the Serbs in Montenegro, Albania and southern Serbia urgently needed their aid.

More Prisoners Taken

BERLIN, via London, Nov. 29.— Capture of 1,500 more Serbs Sunday brought the number of the German allies' prisoners in the Balkan campaign up to 102,500, the war office stated today. Captured cannon in the same war theater number 502, it was stated.

Pursuit of the Serbs now in flight was reported still in progress. The statement did not say the invaders had crossed the Montenegrin and Albanian frontiers but it is believed they have done so.

Town Evacuated

BUCHAREST, Rumania, via Berlin and London, Nov. 29.—Evacuation by all civilians of the Bulgarian town of Rustchuk was ordered by the military authorities today as a step toward preparation for defense against Russian attack.

SUBMARINES SINK
THREE MORE SHIPS

Two French Boats and One British Vessel Are Reported Sent to the Bottom

LONDON, Nov. 29.—The French steamships Algerien and Omara and the British steamship Tanis have been sunk by submarines. From the Algerien twenty-nine persons are missing.

The Algerien was of 1,703 tons, sailed from Marseilles and was owned by the Compagnie De Navigation Mixte. The only steamship Tanis mentioned by Lloyd's register is a German craft.

From the Algerien eight men were rescued and one corpse was picked up. The Tanis' crew has been landed.

The Omara was of 435 tons and the property, like the Algerien, of the Compagnie De Navigation Mixte with Marseilles as its home port.

THE COMING OF LA FOLLETTE

We look forward with considerable interest to the series of addresses which Senator Robert M. La Follette is about to deliver upon state issues. The senator has kept himself well informed upon the progress of events in Wisconsin, and we understand that he has spent some time in verification at the state capitol.
The result we anticipate is the truth, marshalled as only La Follette can marshal facts, presented with that lucidity and vigor that makes every sentence compel conviction.

DOLLAR DAY MAKES GOOD

Mutuality of advantage is the test of every special merchandising program, and from this angle Dollar Day has proved its worth.

The special advantages which Dollar Day affords those who know the value of money and want its equivalent when they trade, are many.

In the first place, large attendance at the sales has enabled the merchants to move goods freely, and the freer the movement the lower the price that can be made on each article sold. Indeed, it is its enormous following that has MADE Dollar Day by rendering possible the unusual bargains that the merchants have been enabled to offer.

Dollar Day has another value—a service to democracy. Any enterprise which brings large numbers of people together from time to time promotes mutual understanding, community of interest and co-operation in the business of life. In the Dollar Day through you can meet almost anybody, for nearly everybody is there. It is not all shopping; visiting and talking business make the day pleasant and profitable.

Today's advertising shows that, encouraged by the splendid appreciation which the public has evidenced in the past, the merchants of La Crosse have outdone all former efforts both in the making of low prices and in provision of practical and valuable articles for the sale.

THE COUNTY BOARD DOES GOOD SERVICE

The TRIBUNE contemplated with deep satisfaction the work of the recent session of the county board.
Tendency which the supervisors there displayed to look under the bed and sweep out the corners, the self-analysis by which they sought to promote greater efficiency in the public business which they discharge, gave a splendid impression of bona fide public service.

Particularly were we pleased with the stand which the board took upon the good roads movement. That they did not permit the reactionary conduct of the state in cutting down state appropriations to an almost negligible minimum to deter them from prosecuting the constructive program which they had mapped out, was an evidence of a complete grasp of the part that good roads play in our economic machinery and a business-like determination to be guided by sound considerations of the interests of La Crosse county.

SHOWER OF GOLD MOST POPULAR

We take pleasure today in calling attention to two special inducements offered to workers in our Shower of Gold election, and we believe our contenders will join us in thanking the generous donors of these attractive prizes. The announcement appears on Page 17 of this number of the TRIBUNE, and we believe the offerings will add interest and zeal to the competition.

Nor do we feel the opportunity should pass to say a word of appreciation to those who are engaged in the Shower of Gold election. Having had experience in many contests, having given away all available prizes from automobiles to Shetland ponies, we speak advisedly when we say that never have we known an enterprise of this kind to make such wide-spread popular appeal, never have we seen such enthusiasm for the work, such intelligence in its prosecution and such efficiency when measured in terms of results. Nor is the cheerful good-will and fair competition of the rivals for the Shower of Gold the least gratifying feature of an undertaking that has brought us into touch with many new friends to associate with whom in future years we look gladly forward.

THE MENACE OF "PREPAREDNESS"

Again the Chicago Tribune, in a first page article, points to Europe as evidence of America's need of "preparedness." If ever there was evidence of the futility of preparedness, Europe furnishes it. The lesson is that only by subordinating every other consideration and making the nation's work the business of "preparedness," does "preparedness" suffice to win, and that the cost of winning is approximately as terrible as the cost of losing. Unless they are prepared to go the full length of Germany, "preparedness" advocates offer us nothing but the yoke of the greatest national expense any nation ever encountered, nothing but a condition that tempts nations to war, nothing but a system that in a republic becomes a graver danger from within than any peril that can menace from without.

ADVERTISING CUTS THE COSTALIVING

Printed Page Is the Cheapest and Most Efficient Salesman of the Business World

"Buyers of goods, whether advertised or not, often think: Who pays these big advertising bills? When I buy, don't I pay my share of it?
Doesn't the advertising cause prices to be higher? Doesn't it all come out of that universal victim—the Ultimate Consumer?"

"This question is answered by an examination of the per cent of the selling price consumed in the cost of selling on goods which are extensively advertised and those which are not.

"Among the largest advertisers in the country are two great clothing houses that sell men's and boys' clothing. These people who spend fortunes in advertising get their goods from their hands to the shelves of their customers at an expense of from five to six per cent of the selling price.

"The average cost of selling goods which are not advertised is twelve per cent.

"Instead of being a burden on the consumer, advertising is a boon to him. Advertising takes off his back half the burden of transportation from the manufacturer to himself.
The advertisement is the lowest salaried agent in the world. If this were not true the best business men would not be the greatest advertisers. If there were a cheaper way of getting to the people the news about their goods, they would find it and use it.

"The misfortune of the farmer is that he handles his goods in such small quantities that he cannot economically advertise, and one of the benefits of a broad co-operation ought to be the possibility of using for the products of the farm that cheapest and best of all traveling men—the printed page, which makes its journey in a mail bag."—Farm and Fireside.

French Politeness

As a truly polite nation the French undoubtedly lead the world, thinks a contributor to a British weekly. The other day a Paris dentist's servant opened the door to a woebegone patient.

"And who, monsieur," he queried in a tender tone, "shall I have the misery of announcing?"—Youth's Companion.

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

The Puppy's Opinion

She's taught me that I musn't bark At little noises after dark, But just refrain from any fuss Until I'm sure they're dangerous.
This would be easier, I've felt,
If noises could be seen or smelt.

She's very wise, I have no doubt.
And plans ahead what she's about.
Yet after eating, every day She throws her nicest bones away.
If she were really less obtuse She'd bury them for future use.

But that which makes me doubt the most Those higher powers that humans boast,
Is not so much a fault like that,
Nor yet her fondness for the cat.
But on our pleasant country strolls Her dull indifference to holes!

O, if I had time to spend To reach a hole's extremest end, I'd grab it fast, without a doubt,
And promptly pull it inside out; Then drag it home with all my power
To chew on it in a leisure hour.

Of all the mistresses there are,
Mine is the loveliest by far—Fain would I wag myself apart If I could thus reveal my heart.
But on some things, I must conclude, Mine is the saner attitude.

—Burgess Johnson in Harpers Magazine.

A Big Fighter

Here is a recruiting story told by an officer at his club the other day.
A very fat waiter had applied for enlistment into the army. The recruiting sergeant looked at him, and shook his head, saying:

"Can't be done, old son; you're too stout."

"Stout or not stout," came the indignant reply, "every acre of my body is at the service of my country."

Casey's Thankfulness

Mrs. Casey—Sure, th' goat has ate all av Maggie's piano music.
Mr. Casey—Thank th' Lord, now, if he'd only ate th' piano, O'd pension him for loife!—Rehoboth Sunday Herald.

High Cost of Courtship

From among the varied issues raised in a current magazine discussion as to why so many young men of today do not marry comes a wall over the modern high cost of courtship.

On its face this plaint is conspicuously metropolitan. Back of it rises to mind, therefore, the whole array of city handicaps to courtship—the lack of facilities in the small flat, with the family at home, the jarring publicity of travel by trolley or subway, the overthrone-ing of the parks, and all that train.
It is in these particulars that the rustic swain has all the advantage, although he can be so blinded with white lights and glaring visions of metropolitan life as not to see it.

Times have changed measurably, of course, even in the country. The old-fashioned spelling school and singing school have largely passed away. There are fewer of Aunt Din-nah's quilting parties from which to see Nellie home. But there remains still either the best parlor or a co-zier substitute, and there are choir rehearsals, church sociables and the time-defying surprise party, and in neighborhoods really rural the husking bee survives. Picnics in summer, coasting parties in winter, and the freedom of father's old horse, not yet wholly displaced by the moderate-priced auto, offer other resources to the lover not of the big town.

Do the complaint and the circumstances suggest that courtship is to be added to the essentials for which we must go back to the land?— New York World.

Description By Proxy

Very frequently the winter highways of the Yukon valley are mere trails, traversed only by dog sledges.
One of the bishops in Alaska, who was very fond of that mode of travel, encountered a miner coming out with his dog team, and stopped to ask what kind of a road he had come over.

The miner responded with a stream of forcible and picturesque profanity, winding up with:

"And what kind o' trail did you have?"

"Same as yours," replied the bishop feelingly.

No Such Hurry

"Your honor, I couldn't possibly have been going over twelve miles an hour."

"The officer testifies that when he arrested you you were making forty."

"There's some mistake, your honor, I was on my way to get my mother-in-law, and it's a cinch I wasn't in any such hurry as that."— Detroit Free Press.

Matter of Age

Some time since Smith and his wife attended a theatrical performance. Glancing over the audience during an intermission, Mrs. Smith thought she recognized a former friend in one of the boxes.

"John," said she, turning to the old man, "isn't that Mrs. Brown in the lower box to the right?"

"That's Mrs. Brown all right," answered John, "and what's more I never saw her got up in more splendid style! She doesn't look 35 does she?"

"No, not now," was the harpoony rejoinder of mother. "But she did back in the 90's."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

The weather will be fair tonight without much change in temperature and partly cloudy Tuesday with rising temperature.

New Way to Make Apple Dumplings

Served With Hard Sauce or Cream and Sugar

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hull, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine

Here is a new way to make apple dumplings that will surely please every housewife, for it is not necessary to have whole apples, and the juice cannot run out and burn as with apple dumplings where the apple is placed in the center and the dough turned up around it. The biscuit part forms a crispy shell that holds the apples and juice.

K C Apple Dumplings

One and one-half cups sifted flour; 1/2 teaspoonful salt; 3 level teaspoonfuls K C Baking Powder; 1/4 cup shortening; about 1/2 cup milk; apples.

Fill the cups of a buttered muffin pan with pared and sliced apples, sprinkle with salt and turn two or three tablespoonfuls of water into each cup. Sift together, three times, the flour, salt and baking powder; work in the shortening, and mix to a soft dough with the milk.
Drop the dough from a spoon with the apples in the cups, giving it a smooth exterior. Let bake about twenty-five minutes. Invert the pan on a large serving dish. Put a spoonful of hard sauce above the apple in each dumpling and finish with a grating of nutmeg.

This is only one of the many new, delicious and appetizing recipes contained in the K C Cook's Book, which may be obtained free by sending the colored certificate packed in every 25-cent can of K C Baking Powder to the JAGU'S MFG.
CO., Chicago. Be sure to get the 25-cent size—smaller cans do not contain Cook's Book certificates.

CLEVER WOMEN IN THE "IRON STRAIN"

Enid Markey, Louise Glaum and Truly Shattuck Associated with Dustin Far-num in Alaskan Play

In putting forth the Alaska love story called "The Iron Strain" as his first contribution to the new Triangle program, Thomas H. Ince has brought together the most talented women of his studio in the company of Dustin Farnum, who plays the leading role. Mr. Farnum's leading woman is Miss Enid Markey, who is associated with social butterfly types and knows how to play them effectively. Mr. Ince intrusted the soubrette role to Louise Glaum, ordinarily a leading woman but here playing a subordinate part in order to provide a perfect ensemble. Even Truly Shattuck, the former star of musical comedy and prima donna of light opera, appears in the minor role of Enid's mother. The strength of the cast on the masculine side is indicated by the fact that Charles K. French plays the Alaska mining king, Ezra Whitney. There are also two Indian characters, which are splendidly enacted by real Redskins.

ESCH HELPS DEBATERS

The normal school debating team held a conference at 11:00 a. m. on Monday with Congressman Esch to American countries and available sources of material for their annual debate. Mr. Esch will look over material relating to the question in hand at the library at Washington and turn over to the debaters works which they will be able to use during the Christmas recess.

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if you feel Backachy or have Bladder Trouble.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system.
Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a teaspoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

MANY DROWN IN PANIC ON SHIP

Turkish Submarine Fired Shot at Britisher and Passengers Jump Into Sea

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Twenty-five persons were drowned in a panic aboard the British steamer Barulos in the Mediterranean when a Turkish submarine fired a shot across the Barulos' bow on October 3, Mrs.
Eleanor Franklin Egan, a magazine writer, declared today on her return from Europe.

When the Barulos, which sailed from Piraeus for Alexandria with 200 passengers, was five hours south of Crete, she picked up three life-boats from the submarine British steamship Sallor Prince, Mrs. Egan, who was a passenger on the Barulos, said.

A few minutes later a big Turkish submarine hove in sight and fired a shot, with a peremptory order for the Barulos to halt. The passengers rushed for the lifeboats.

Women, unable to reach the boats, jumped into the sea. Some threw their babies into the water.

Mrs. Egan said she escaped death because she was a good swimmer.

THE PATRIOTISM OF THE DOLLAR-HOUNDS IS HIT BY SENATOR LA FOLLETTE

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 29.—(Special.)—The program of preparedness outlined by the Navy League of the United States was attacked by Senator Robert M. La Follette Saturday who declares that his backers are animated by financial rather than patriotic motives. The statement indicates that the senator will favor all of the work of preparedness being done by government interests.

"If a man dares to intimate that he is unwilling to swallow the whole program for preparedness—a big army, a big navy, big contracts for munitions of war—that man is a fool or a coward or a traitor," says Senator La Follette in a signed statement in his magazine today.

"Who are the real patriots of the country?" "They are the glorious group of multi-millionaires who are making such enormous profits out of the European war, as were never before realized in the same brief period since time began. They are the Morgans, the Rockefellers, the Schwabs, the Gays, the Du Ponts, and their prototypes, who are back of the thirty-eight corporations much benefited by war orders, the stocks of which have increased more than a thousand million dollars above their highest market value before the war.

"They are the dollar-scarred heroes who organized the Navy League of the United States.

"The high purpose of this noble organization is to boom big appropriations for a 'sufficient number of super-dreadnaughts,' of the new winter design, the contracts for which must be signed up before the style changes; also standard armor plate, all blow-holes of which are warranted to be carefully puttied up before delivery; also other munitions of war with latent defects guaranteed to remain latent until after acceptance by the government.

The Roll-Call

"God bless the Navy League of the United States! How we thrill at the roll call of those present when it was organized."

Senator La Follette then gives the names of the organizers and shows the financial connection each has to the program of preparedness.

"Shades of Lincoln," he continues. "What a band of patriots with their business connections covering every financial and industrial center in the United States! Owning newspapers, periodicals and magazines and controlling through business relations the editorial good will of many others, they will be able to render powerful but disinterested aid in the great propaganda for preparedness which is now flooding this country at high tide as congress is about to meet."

Senator La Follette says that much of this agitation is because those interested in war contracts of the allies at present "will sorely need good fat government contracts with Uncle Sam" after the war is over. He then declares that the government should manufacture these munitions.

Government Economy

"The government arsenal at Philadelphia is today making a 3-8 common shrapnel at a cost of only $7.94 while at the same time it is paying private firms for identical shrapnel $17.50," declares Senator La Follette. "The government makes a 31-second combination fuse for $2.92. For this same fuse it pays the private maker just $7.00."

The senator then prints a long comparative table which shows the price for which the government makes these war articles and the price it must pay private concerns.

"Of course the government can build its battleships and manufacture its munitions of war in government owned and operated shipyards and plants, much better and more economical than it can hire it done by the patriots," says the senator and then adds with a touch of sarcasm:

"But what of that! The government has plenty of money—or can get it out of the people. We need real Simon pure patriots like Morgan, and Schwab and Gary—even if they do come high."

Surgeon Declares War A Necessity

(By Henry Noble Sherwood, Ph. D.)
"War is a normal state of man; it cannot be eliminated from the web of life; our present civilization cannot prevent it. These are the conclusions of Professor George W. Crile of Western Reserve university in his new book, "A Mechanistic View of War and Peace." (McMillan Company, New York.)

War as the surgeon sees it is the theme of this book. Dr. Crile was recently in charge of a hospital in France. He here describes various phenomena that the noted among the wounded and gives a mechanistic explanation not only of these phenomena but of war in general, interprets German Kultur and indicates ways in which peace may be promoted. One of the most unusual and at the same time valuable features of the work is its record of cases and experiences that came directly under Dr. Crile's observation.

To understand the inevitableness of war, man should be considered as a mechanism, whose reactions under a given set of conditions are as inevitable as are the reactions of any other mechanism, such as a locomotive for example. There are mechanisms in the brain which determine the response made by an individual to any stimulus. They have been evolved species. They are stimulated by the passage of energy over certain nerves; a definite response is made. Thus a soldier marches, fixes his bayonet, etc. If his head were blown off and it were possible to stimulate the various nerves running to the muscles that participate in a given act by an electric current of the same intensity as the current of energy received from the brain, the headless soldier would march, fix his bayonet, etc. Man has in his brain, therefore, action patterns

Our ancestors, because they increased more rapidly than their food supply increased, began an unending contest. They fought wild beasts, struggled with the forces of nature, and made war on their fellowman. In this experience they created action patterns which are manifested in our acts. Hunting is the savage's recall. It is the stvte in man "that is throwing all of his resources into the task of catching and killing his prey and when at last the salmon or the trout is hooked, what a display of excitement over the conquest!" Man is not a stranger to fight. "War is the end effect of the action patterns previously established in a people."

"The earliest predisposing cause of the present war of nations was the establishment of an action pattern of war in the first child who as a man is now concerned therein. This event was a microscopic declaration of war. Multiples of like patterns made inevitable the final declaration of war between the nations." To secure peace in the future we must develop peace patterns instead of war patterns. Man's conduct is the result of species experience (phylogeny) and individual experience (ontogeny). Environment is the mold which predetermines the man. If patterns of peace shall predominate over war patterns we must show the disadvantages of war as well as its advantages in the nursery, school and the university; in the daily papers, magazines and books. In this educational way we may evolve peace.

COUNT RESORTED TO FORGERY TO GET MARRIAGE FUNDS

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—A Thanksgiving romance that included in its case one French count and the daughter of a wealthy Riverside, Ill., merchant, went on the rocks yesterday. Under the name of Louis Girox, Louis De Valliers, who admits he is a bona fide French count, was arrested on a charge of passing bad checks. He said he passed one for $30, according to the police, to have funds for his elopement and wedding with Miss Bertha Lemke. The couple were married in Wheaton, Ill., Thanksgiving morning, a justice of the peace officiating. The girl, so the police said, announced she still loves the count, but will sue for annulment immediately.

STEALS "BENEFIT" TICKETS

Theft of tickets to the Majestic Benefit performance for the "Y. W. C. A." Home is an achievement which threatens to disclose a new "meanest man." One hundred tickets were taken from the show case of a business man who had them on sale.

MONEY IN PEANUT SHELLS

A source of wealth that is going to waste in enormous quantities all through our peanut loving country is described in the current issue of Farm and Fireside.

"A Southern business man went to a manufacturer of grinding mills and said he wanted one that would grind peanut hulls; they're hard to grind because they are so gritty. He finally got a mill that would do the work, though he wouldn't tell what he was going to do with the ground hulls. But the secret leaked out. They are now used in Pittsburgh for polishing tin plate, and after that the oily mixture is put up in packages with a fancy label and sold as sweepings compound."

Sudden—"His marriage was most unexpected, I believe?" "Rather! Especially to him!"—Sydney Bulletin.

I gladly recommend Prudence of the Parsonage as a good, clean, humorous book for the home. —Rev. George Dawsey Phila. County Sunday School Assoc'n, Phila.

WeekMADISON, Wis., Nov. 29.—Ostensibly the next political campaign opens in Wisconsin this week. Senator La Follette will fire the opening gun for the progressives with a speech at Richland Center. Governor Philipp is scheduled to deliver three speeches during the week at Milwaukee, Wausau and Stevens Point, and it is said will reply to Senator La Follette's attacks.Neither the conservatives or the progressive element in the state will admit that this date will mark the opening of the campaign. Neither of the principals has made an announcement for what office he will be a candidate. The political straws would indicate that the first bone of contention will be the representation of the republican party at the national convention.In capitol circles the resignation of Colonel R. B. Pixley from the office of private secretary coupled with his announcement that he will return to newspaper work here is taken to mean that the general publicity end of the campaign to secure conservative delegates at the national convention will be aided by a series of articles to be prepared by Mr.
Pixley. With this rumor comes the current statement that Governor Philipp will be a candidate to head the republican delegation from Wisconsin to the national convention. The primaries for the election of these delegates are to be held in April.No definite statement can be had from the La Follette ranks of the position they are to take in the La Follette ranks of the position they claim that Senator La Follette will be a candidate to head the Wisconsin delegation and others claim that some others of his followers will be selected. Those in a position to know definitely announce, however, that there will be a complete progressive delegation in the field and a vigorous campaign will be waged to secure their election. Wisconsin has twenty-six representatives.CARD OF THANKS.We, the undersigned, wish to ex-

BISHOP ON TRIAL
IN WINONA COURTCase Scheduled for Today Will Probably Not Be Reached Until

Jury Looked for Owing to Wide Publicity of ShootingRev. Father L. M. Lesches, who fired four shots into the body of Rt.
Rev. Bishop P. R. Heffron of Winona, as the bishop was celebrating mass in the chapel at Winona early on the morning of August 27, will be brought to trial in district court at the Gate city tomorrow. The priest's case was scheduled for today, but a case listed ahead of it on the court calendar precludes a trial before tomorrow. The trial is expected to last three or four days.Jury to be Hard to GetConsiderable time is expected to be consumed in empanelling a jury, for the interest aroused at the time of the shooting of the prelate was so widespread, and the matter was given such publicity, that it is considered difficult to find men who have not formed an opinion.Reports have been circulated that the state would request the appointment of a commission to pass upon the sanity of Father Lesches, but County Attorney Earl Simpson, who will prosecute Lesches, gave out the statement today that the state expected to proceed on the theory that Lesches was of sound mind when he committed the shooting, and that if there was any question of sanity to be passed upon in the trial, it would have to be done by the jury.Has Three AttorneysFather Lesches will be given the best possible defense. Three attorneys have been engaged, H. M. Lamberton, who will be his senior counsel; Edward Lees and J. J. Fitzpatrick. The defense will base its case on the claim that Father Lesches was insane when the shooting occurred, and it is expected that among the witnesses called will be persons who saw the priest shortly after he had made the attempt upon the life of the bishop.Since the shooting Lesches has been confined in the Winona jail.
The Winona diocese, in a communication with Clerk of Court Alvin Braley shortly after the shooting, announced that they would stand the expense of the defense of the priest to the extent that he secured his civil rights.CALEDONIA BOYS

REGENTS ATTACK
STATE NORMALS
IN WARM LETTERPresident F. A. Cotton, and all other state normal presidents in Wisconsin, have received from Duncan McGregor, president of the state board of normal regents, a letter criticizing the work of the state normal schools.Asked about the letter today, President Cotton said that as it came from official authority he felt it would be in bad taste for him to discuss it.The latter is based upon the Farmer report of the recent survey. It is general in its terms, naming a num-ber of adverse criticism in the report and rather caustically suggesting improvement, but it mentions no particular schools.This report is of a piece with the Allen report of the state university survey, and it is interesting to note that contemporaneously with this report came the report of the state board of public affairs, commending the normal schools, in the main, for high standards.The letter is in a carping tone, neglecting to commend the better features of the schools, and attempting no discrimination between them.FIRE DEPARTMENT HAS BALLSPEARFISH, S. D., Nov. 29.—The

UPHELD BY DUNNThe liveliest discussion of the year was the order of the day at the Open Forum yesterday. Mr. Dunn led the debate, being the principal speaker on the subject of government ownership of public utilities. The speaker favored individualism as alone able to advance a people or a government.Mr. Dunn said in part: "There must be individual development before good government can ensue.
Government ownership is an attempt to eradicate the individual. The world is growing better. Each age has its ideals which it outgrows and the present ideal is that of riches, which, however, is passing away.""Soon no man will permit himself to be a millionaire and rich men will voluntarily divide their profits with their employees. Competition is the life of trade and the main spring of progress. This must be reinstated and maintained and then individuals will get their rights."The president's ideas were bitterly opposed by every speaker following. It was pointed out that the government is not a separate organization entirely distinct from the people; and it was further declared that under the proposed government ownership the individual would have even greater opportunities for developing than he possesses at the present time. Every subsequent speaker seriously doubted the voluntary philanthropy of the rich in dividing their wealth with the poor.SAFETY ROUND TABLE

COMMISSION? THE QUESTION IN SUITWhat is a reasonable commission for a real estate agent in effecting a trade between two property owners, desirous of exchanging their hold-in a case instituted by Theodore J.

Nordlie, local real estate agent, against L. J. Schams, also of La Crosse, to recover the sum of $250 for his services in arranging a deal between Schams and Fitch Z. Ballard and Schams.Nordlie, as agent for Schams, held property owned by Schams, located at the corner of Sixth and King streets, and valued at $12,000, for exchange for farm property, Nordlie, through S. L. Bovee, Jr., a local real estate agent, arranged a deal with Ballard, to exchange his 390 acre farm, situated about three miles from Merrillan, and valued at $12-000, for the Schams property in this Nordlie devoted four days' work to the transaction.RICH, NATURAL COLOR TO Save $5 to $10 by doing your own dry cleaning. Here is a simple and inexpensive way to clean and brighten children's coats, suits, caps, woolen garments, Swiss, lawn, organdies and chiffon dresses, kid gloves and shoes, furs, neckties, ribbons, silk, satins, lace, yokes, silk shirtwaists, draperies, rugs, in fact, any and everything that would be ruined with soap and water.

Get two ounces of solvite at any drug store and put it in two gallons of gasoline, where it readily dissolves. Then put in the goods to be cleaned. After a little rubbing out they come looking as clean and fresh as new. You will find nothing fades, shrinks or wrinkles, requiring no pressing.

CONFERENCE CALLED TO DISCUSS WASTE IN VARIOUS FORMS

Madison Man Tells of Purpose of Meeting to Fight Indiscriminate Waste

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—A permanent organization, to work for the establishment of practical co-operation, in the production and distribution of foodstuffs, will follow the national conference on marketing and farm credits, which opens here Nov. 30. At the request of the United Press, Mr. Charles W. Holman, of Madison, Wis., secretary of the conference, prepared a statement showing the character and scope of the movement.

BY CHARLES W. HOLMAN
(Written for the United Press.)
What does it mean when leading citizens, representing finance, farming, transportation, manufacturing, distributing industries, and university thought, join with state and federal government officials to discuss waste?

What does it signify when the interests that people are accustomed to view as antagonistic, come together to eliminate waste?

Coming to the Chicago conference, are delegates from almost every state. They will represent various classes, but the dominant class will be the farming interests. For organizations representing over a million farmers have already arranged to send delegates. These people and these of other classes are animated by a common desire—to eliminate waste from American life. They differ in their ideas about going about the process. But most of the delegates dire more light.

Food and Garments Wasted

The delegates believe that one of the greatest and most immediate wastes of American life concerns the production and distribution of national food and garment supplies. This waste begins with the cultivation of the soil, and ends with the preparation of food for the table, and throwing away of the half used garment. Vital problems connected with the waste are the preparation of the farm product for market in uniform grades, the securing of adequate transportation vehicles and the medium necessary for successful sales.

Of vital need here is a uniform organization of farmers' societies. At present the unorganized condition of the farmer permits hundreds of millions of dollars worth of food products to go to waste in unrealized profits and sometimes in unharvested, whose value is lost to society because the farmers cannot ship and sell enough to warrant the trouble. I have seen thousands of tons of farm produce thus rot in the unorganized districts. But in the sections where farmers have soundly financed and constituted societies, this kind of waste rarely occurs. The crops are moved to somewhere, and somebody gets benefit from the plentiful yields. So the delegates are going to discuss agricultural co-operation—the kind needed and the ways to get it.

Population Distribution Discussed

The other great wastes to be discussed at this conference have to do with the distribution of population, and with the financing of land purchases and farm business. While other countries have been busily conforming their tenanted farmers into home owning farmers, the United States has let carelessly slip away the public domain until there is but little free land left. Tenants have multiplied faster than is good for the commonwealth. They have gotten at outs with their landlords at some sections. The impoverishment of soil and of manhood from this system constitutes a national waste of grave character and alarming magnitude. Delegates will earnestly seek measures to check the growth of landlordism, and to find ways to turn tenants and landless men into home owners.

The conference will deal at length with the perplexing wastes that spring from unsuitable rural credit systems. Over $0 rural credit bills have been placed on the congressional calendar within the last year. The last congress created a joint committee to deal with this problem, and that committee is right now holding hearings, and working hard to whip its bill into shape, before next congress shall open.

The general committee will enforce strictly the rule that this gathering is annually an open forum. Any person may speak by consent of the house; in fact, the conference is a national social center to discuss these specific problems.

THIRTIETH ANNUAL SHORT COURSE OPEN

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 29.—The thirtieth annual short course in agriculture at the university opened this morning with an enrollment practically equal to that of any year since its establishment. Students from many of the counties of the state and from other states as well have matriculated. The short course was for many years distinctive to Wisconsin and has since been the model of institutions in this and other countries. It has been especially successful in training young men as business farmers. Many of its graduates are listed among Wisconsin's most successful and prosperous farmers. The idea of a winter's term in agriculture at the university of Wisconsin originated with the late William P. Vilas of Madison who while regent of the university was supported in his plans by Judge E. W. Keyes, also of Madison and William A. Henry, for many years the dean of the Wisconsin college. Every county in the state has been reached and influenced, directly or indirectly by this agricultural and educational movement.

LAST DECADE HAS BEEN BOOMER FOR THE UNIVERSITY

More Instructional Work Done in Twelve Years Than in All the Rest of Its History

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 29.—"More instructional work has been done at the university during the last twelve years than during its entire previous history." Up to 1903, the time when rapid expansion began, less than 6,000 degrees had been granted. Since that time more than 7,000 have been granted.

This statement was made by President Charles H. Van Hise of the University of Wisconsin in an address at Mayville, Wis., recently when he summed up in a few striking words the service which the university renders the state along the lines of instruction to students at Madison, of extension of knowledge, and of advancement of knowledge.

Cost Not Commensurate With Work
"It has been asserted that the cost of the university has increased very rapidly. This is true, but also the amount of work which the university has done has increased rapidly. At the present time, about 6,000 are securing instruction at Madison; another 6,000 through correspondence work; and through extension, general and agricultural, several hundred thousand people of the state are directly reached each year.

"The statement that the university spends $3,000,000 a year is so made as to lead to gross misconception, the purpose being to convey the idea that the state contributes that amount per annum to the university," he continued.

"This year the entire income of the university from the state is about $1,782,000; and of this nearly $300,000 is for capital account and of the remainder, not all was appropriated by the legislature for the university's use. Out of this sum is to come the very large amounts, more than $250,000 for general state purposes such as extension, hygienic laboratory, etc.

"About $1,000,000 of the university's resources are derived from the students in fees, from business transactions, such as purchase of milk and sale of butter and cheese, from government grants, from income on trust funds, etc. When the budget system was instituted two years ago, this money, not from state sources, was appropriated by the legislature. Thus there was an apparent sudden leap in the cost of the university of about $1,000,000 which was due only to a change of bookkeeping.

The university's method in teaching complex political, economic and social subjects was discussed by President Van Hise to explain the university's point of view.

"There is no such thing in these subjects as standard teachings which the students are expected to accept. On the contrary, it is the purpose of the university in these subjects to teach the method of acquiring knowledge and developing thought in relation to them. It is removed as far as possible from definite teaching of dogma."

The man who lives for himself alone might just as well crawl off and die.

WOMEN MUNITIONS WORKERS CHARGE THEY ARE SWEATED

They Say They Have to Work with Five Dollars Weekly Highest Wage

LONDON, Oct. 9. (By mail).—Women munition workers of England say they are being sweated and that their patriotism is being exploited to satisfy employer's greed. The women's formal charges, just filed with the labor board, add to the labor muddle in the United Kingdom.

The women usually are not affiliated with regular trade unions, whose domain they have invaded.

but in this case their charges coincide with the allegations of the laboring men. The English working women, like the men, persist in their efforts to get a hearing when the life of the nation is at stake, they say, because although they declare themselves patriotic they cannot permit their patriotism to be exploited. While the manufacturers grow rich out of government war contracts, the working women insist their wages remain unincreased while the cost of living is constantly ascending. The men charged this too; and the women add that their employers are taking advantage of their inexperience to sweat them.

One advantage the women have is that government boards were appointed to investigate conditions under which they might be called upon to work. These boards have responded to the cry for help and are, after investigation, mending the weight of their authority to the protests.

The complaints center largely in the Manchester district where thousands of women are employed and hundreds are being added weekly. It was found that many factories are installing lighter machinery for the women, but are not paying them men's wages, nor nearly so much.

The wages were found to vary from a maximum of about $5 for a forty-eight-hour week down to $2.50 for a fifty-one-hour week. Despite the minimum wage of seven cents an hour fixed many concerns paid less. The women demand factory canteens so the women night workers may have a hot meal. A demand is also made for a shift schedule that will not permit a woman to work more than eight hours at a time.

Another protest was against heavy work being given to the women. One young girl handled an eighteen pound shell every minute throughout the day. Other girls were found working on rough cast shells weighing twenty-three pounds.

The report of the government's committee was that women could not be employed on heavy physical work of this nature for the period of hours now required unless they were paid sufficiently to permit of proper food and nourishment.

JOVIANS HOLD ELECTRICAL WEEK

Local Order of Electrical Men Join in Celebrating Electrical Prosperity
Week

A tribute is being paid this week to the genius of electricity. To show inseparably this great efficiency builder has become linked with modern progress, a six day nation-wide celebration, known as Electrical Prosperity Week, will be held from November 29 to December 4. Its purpose is to open the mind's eye of the public to new joys of living—the peace that comes when drudgery and labor are lightened.

The event is planned by the electrical interests of the nation, headed by the Jovian Order, whose slogan is "All Together All the Time for Everything Electrical." By displays, lectures, demonstrations and exhibits the people everywhere will be shown that electricity is a practical commodity, not a luxury; is pre-eminent as a factor of industrial, commercial and domestic economy.

The occasion is especially opportune for housewives to demonstrate electrical household appliances. The spirit of "Do it Electrically" is in the air. Coming as it does at the very beginning of the Christmas shopping period, when the fair sex encounter the usual dilemma of choosing appropriate Christmas gifts. Demonstrations of things electrical will help to solve the problem.

The local celebration of Electrical Prosperity Week will be participated in by all the electrical enterprises of the city, under the auspices of the Jovian order, which is headed by W. A. Grimes, who enjoys the distinction of being the oldest Jovian in the city, and Harry H. Long.

ELAINE'S GARDEN

BY CLARISSA MACKIE

(Copyright, 1915 by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

It was such a hopeless looking garden! Rather, it was a neglected back yard criss-crossed with clotheslines, bounded by two neat brick walls on either side and a shabby brick laundry shed at the back which gave upon an alley. The rear of Mrs. Frick's boarding house formed the fourth boundary, and from her window on the fourth floor Elaine Rogers could look down on the bleak squalidness of the neglected rectangle and compare it, most unfavorably, with the green loveliness of the one next door.

"Why don't I have a garden?" Mrs. Frick replied when Elaine questioned her. She laughed harshly. "And who would be getting three meals a day, eh? Suppose you all came in to dinner and found no dinner at all and me mincing around in a garden! 'Come into my garden and eat by smelling of my flowers!' I'd say, 'Humph!' she ended contemptuously.

Elaine said no more about gardens, but she continued to look wistfully down at the neglected space and dream of what might be done with it if—

"If I had money enough," she sighed, but there never was money enough to spare from her salary as kindergarten teacher. Elaine was quite alone in the world and this was her first year at self-supporting. She had not known that boarding houses could be so drear, food so unappetizing, landscapes so hardened to anything that approached beauty.

"How absurd I am!" she exclaimed. "Sitting here and wishing will not bring things to me. I must go out after them. How, shall I attack Mrs. Frick's back yard. No! But I can have a window garden of my very own and this southern exposure will be just the thing."

The next Saturday found Elaine, singing like a lark, arranging pots of geraniums and ferns and ivy on the wide sill of her solitary window. She had placed the last plant and was leaning out to arrange some falling sprays of ivy when something happened—something that brought a frightened exclamation from her lips and caused the young man walking in the garden next door to glance up with a startled expression on his pale face.

The tiniest potted geranium of a sweet-smelling variety went hurtling down toward him.

"Look out!" warned Elaine, but he did not move, and the little flower-pot sped to its mark between his eyes.

Elaine covered her own eyes for a moment. When she withdrew her hands the man was lying prostrate and a man-servant was bending over him.

Elaine flew down the stairs to the front sidewalk and hastened into the area of the house next door. Here all was specklessly neat and bearing evidence of well-to-do occupants. She rang the basement bell and a flurried-looking maid admitted her.

"A flower pot fell from my window I am afraid it has injured the young man who was in the garden," hurriedly explained Elaine.

The maid nodded. "Mr. Arthur is in the dining room, Miss. James is dressing the wound while he waits for the doctor."

"Oh, is he so badly hurt?" breathed Elaine.

"It bleeds frightfully, miss. It struck him fairly between the eyes," explained the girl.

"It seems so strange that he did not move out of the way. He seemed to be looking straight at it."

"Mr. Arthur is blind, miss," said the maid gravely.

"Blind!" cried Elaine pitifully. "Oh, no—how dreadful!"

There was a murmur of voices in the next room and a man appeared with a roll of bandages in his hand.

"Mr. Arthur wishes to know who is here, Mary," he said.

"The young lady next door. She came to see if he was badly hurt. It was her flower pot that fell."

"Please ask her to come in here, Mary," said a man's impatient voice and in response the three of them hastened to enter the open door of the dining room.

Elaine's victim was lying on a broad leather-covered couch and James' skillful hands had neatly bandaged his eyes. Elaine could only see a fine forehead, with dark hair brushed smoothly back, the end of a handsome nose and firm, well-cut lips.

"I am so sorry!" she breathed impetuously.

"That's the voice," he cried excitedly. "You were singing," he went on eagerly.

"Yes," she replied.

"You sounded so happy—I was wishing I could see you—my clouded eyes—" he ended abruptly.

"And I have made them worse," trembled Elaine, very near tears.

"Hardly—the earth and the plant were loosened from the pot and struck me first, breaking the blow of the pot itself. Dr. Hurd will fix that up in a trice. Tell me what you were doing, please."

Elaine sat down and told him about her window garden and how it had been inspired by his own well-kept plot next door.

He listened eagerly and nodded his head many times as if he understood just how she felt about boarding houses and back yards that ought to be gardens and persisted in being back yards.

By the time she had finished, the doctor arrived and she listened patiently to his report.

THE PRESENT

(Third of a series of articles on conditions existing between British labor and capital.)

BY ED L. KEEN

LONDON, Oct. 9.—(By mail.)—

Organized labor first suggested how to deal with the labor shortage in munitions industries. In November, 1914 the Amalgamated Society of Engineers and four other unions proposed that firms engaged on private work be given government work, firms working short time, transfer surplus labor to busier centers, skilled workmen be brought from Canada and Australia, skilled men who had enlisted be brought back from the trenches.

This, then, appealed not to the government or to the employers. Six months later, after the spring offensive in Flanders failed through lack of munitions, it was adopted.

Following this expose of the empire's grave danger, all the skilled labor unions in the United Kingdom agreed, during the war, to allow unskilled workers to use lathes and other machines, permitted women in munitions work, withdrew opposition to the premium bonus system and agreed not to restrict or hamper the output.

Right after this Lloyd George said the real cause of the munitions shortage was drink. He abandoned this later when he saw that the facts were against him, but much mischief had been done. The British masses are not thick-skinned. Their feelings were hurt. To be called drunkards just after what they had done was discouraging.

Next came the munitions act. Early in the year labor suspected that Lloyd George and the government desired industrial conscription. The government had refused to deal with the increased living cost, increased profits, or the claims of labor that the war ought not to be a means of labor exploitation by capital.

The munitions act provided prohibition of strikes; government control of certain establishments, now nearly 1,000; guaranteed employers in controlled establishments the average of profits for the last two years plus one-fifth extra, and allowances for capital expenditures; suspended all trade union regulations in controlled establishments, and subjected workers to heavy fines for striking, decreasing output, or going to work elsewhere.

Many workers felt that this was a form of slavery. They would have preferred the munitions factories nationalized and the workers responsible in conjunction with the state for discipline and output. There would have been less dissatisfaction had the act been scrupulously observed by employers and sympathetically administered by the government. A few instances:

Armstrong & Whitworth, Openshaw, dismissed 151 Steel Smelters' union men, refusing them certificates required by the munitions act before they could get other work. At Sheffield a worker asked the local munitions tribunal's permission to take a position closer to where his wife, almost at death's door, resided. Permission was refused. Fourteen Manchester workmen, summoned for contravening the strike clause of the act, proved that the government had not acquainted them with the act's provisions and that their employers were not engaged exclusively upon government work. They were fined.

In defense of the biggest strike since the act went into effect, when 1,500 Thornycroft's shipbuilding yard workers at Southampton downed tools because of the introduction on non-union labor, labor says the employers themselves first violated the act's provision that "due notice shall be given workmen of any change of working conditions desired and opportunity for local consultation with the workmen or their representatives shall be given, if desired." This, they say, was the real cause of the strike.

Leaders of labor in Great Britain contend that the workers still are as wholeheartedly in favor of the war as when it started. But, they say: Exploitation continues; the government's attitude toward increased living cost and increased profits of employers still is unsatisfactory, to labor.

That the administration of the munitions act is constantly embittering relations between the government and labor; and that labor feels that its sacrifices in lives, in trade union rights, the material prosperity have far exceeded those of the classes.

Despite these things, labor has now promised to recruit 20,000 men a week, and to try to make it 30,000.

NEWSIE LEFT BIG ESTATE

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 29.—Edward Brunner, the Milwaukee "newsboy" who was killed in an automobile accident last Sunday, left an estate of $20,000, it became known when his will was filed for probate. The entire sum was left to his son, Edward, Junior, 6 years old.

When ridicule is weighed in the balance it proves to be light weight.

THE SILO

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 29.—(Special.)—"This is one of the most valuable bulletins that has come to my desk in a number of years. I should like to reprint it in our columns. If you will send the photographs we will have cuts made at once and return the pictures to within three or four days."

This is the estimate which the editor of one of the important farm papers in the middle west places upon "First Aid to the Settler," a bulletin just published by the Agricultural Experiment station to aid the settlers in upper Wisconsin in clearing and farming their lands.

While much of the information given in this bulletin applies to the man who has ample funds at his disposal, it is written primarily for the man of small means and is intended as a guide to help him in getting a start on cut-over land in northern Wisconsin. The man of experience may find that there are discussed in this publication matters which are clear to him, while persons with little or no farm experience, under Wisconsin conditions will find that the bulletin will be of great service to them.

The author of the bulletin has spent much of his life among clearings in upper Wisconsin and gives information not only from his experience but also from close observation. As long as the edition lasts, copies will be sent to residents of the state who apply for them.

Would Develop Rural Church
C. J. Galpin, secretary of the Wisconsin Country Life conference, has been chosen as a member of an important committee which, headed by Gifford Pinchot, is working for the improvement and development of the country church. At a meeting to be held in Columbus early in December this committee will make certain definite recommendations looking toward the development of the rural church and county parish. Many men interested in farm life and farming will attend this important conference.

WOULD PUT COLLEGE MEN ON RESERVE

DAYTON, Ohio, Nov. 29.—Captain George Converse, commandant of Ohio State University cadets, in his address at the Ohio State alumni banquet here, said that congress, in the next session will be asked to consider a bill providing for a military reserve for college men. The bill proposes that all universities having national land grants, provide four year courses in military training along with other college subjects. Graduates could enter the army with the rank of second lieutenant.

PEACE ASSURED TENANTS

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 29.—"Peace assured" flats are the latest here. Realty men have introduced a clause into rental contracts effective today, which provides against unnecessary noise such as walking heavily, jumping, handling furniture, throwing or dropping heavy articles or playing musical instruments between 10 p. m. and 7 a. m. The contracts also forbid the cleaning or undue exposure of household goods or clothing "from windows, porches, sidewalks or backyards."

DO THIS FIRST—YOU!

You know, and every physician knows, that when any sickness has passed, whether it be throat trouble, organic disturbances, contagious diseases, or even a severe cold, a relapse is feared, because sickness robs the system of Nature's resistance and leaves it subject to lingering germs.

Drugs never build up a worn-out body—only food can do that, and the first thing to take after any sickness is the concentrated, blood-making oil food in Scott's Emulsion, which feeds the tissues, benefits the blood and strengthens both lungs and throat.

Physicians prescribe Scott's Emulsion after sickness. Nurses everywhere advocate it. Scott's is pure medicinal food, without alcohol or drugs.

Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.

A splendid book with a splendid theme, and superbly written. Success to Prudence! It deserves a large reading for the entertainment it will give and good it will do. —Rev. C. G. Mosher

FIVE DEATHS OF DIPHTHERIA IN CITY LAST YEAR

But Thirty-eight Cases Were Reported According to U. S. Health Service Figures

SMALL POX CALLED PREVALENT

There Were Thirty-eight Cases of Pitted Scourge and One Death During 1914

La Crosse reported 38 cases of diphtheria and had five deaths from that dangerous malady in 1914, according to figures in the weekly public health reports issued by the United States public health service, received from Washington Saturday. This record, based on an estimated population July 1, 1914, of 31,367, gave a case rate per 1,000 inhabitants of 1.211, and a fatality rate of 13.16 per 100 cases. Nine cases of scarlet fever were reported during the year. Smallpox was prevalent, with 38 cases and one death. Tuberculosis clung persistently to its reputation as the nation's worst scourge, in La Crosse claiming 39 victims in 1914. Thirteen other cases were reported during the year. La Crosse also reported 19 typhoid fever cases and four fatalities from the disease. This gave a case rate of .604 per 1,000 inhabitants and a fatality rate of 21.05 per 100 cases.

It should be kept in mind that a relatively large number of reported cases of a communicable disease, as indicated by a high case rate (and more especially when accompanied by a relatively small number of deaths, as indicated by a low fatality rate), usually means that the health department of that city is active, and that the cases of the disease is more prevalent in that city than in other cities. A high fatality rate may mean that the disease is unusually virulent in a city, that the physicians did not treat the disease with the success usual elsewhere, or that the practicing physicians did not report all of their cases to the death department. On the other hand, an unusually low fatality rate may be due to the fact that the disease in the city was unusually mild, that the physicians treated it with unusual success, that the practicing physicians reported their cases satisfactorily, that the registration of deaths was incomplete, or the assignment of the causes of death inaccurate.

PAGE DISPATCHES ANOTHER REPORT ON ANCONA CASE

Affidavit of Dr. Cecile Greil Besides Government Testimony Enclosed

BY ALICE ROHE (United Press Staff Correspondent.) Rome, Nov. 29.—(Delayed.)—American Ambassador Page dispatched another report on the Ancona case to Washington today.

Dr. Cecile Greil, the American woman survivor of the catastrophe, who has furnished the only entirely disinterested account of the affair, is expected to arrive here tonight from Tripoli, where she was landed with many other passengers and members of the lost ship's crew.

Ambassador Page has been given every facility by the Italian government to investigate the torpedoing of the Ancona. He has also Dr. Greil's version and the affidavits of a number of other survivors taken by American and British consular officials at ports where the castaways got ashore.

All these details are understood to be included in the latest report to the state department.

A further statement from Dr. Greil is also expected when she arrives here.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Survival of a second American citizen from the Ancona disaster was reported by Consul Mason at Marseilles today to the state department. The American, Joseph Toris, had been reported among the dead. His daughter Camilla, is among the missing.

WISCONSIN'S NOTED GLOVER SLAVE CASE

(By Frederick Merk, Wisconsin State Historical Society.)

Wisconsin was the scene of one of the most interesting and dramatic episodes in the history of the slavery controversy. Though the state was never so closely identified with the abolition movement as New England, it contained thousands of citizens who felt as strongly upon the great moral issue of human bondage as any of the descendants of the Pilgrim fathers. Particularly in southeastern Wisconsin, where the New England element predominated, was anti-slavery feeling strong during the forties and fifties.

He Was Runaway
In 1853 there lived in this portion of the state, just outside Racine, a runaway slave named Joshua Glover. One night as he was playing cards in his home with several negro companions, seven heavily armed men forced their way into his room. Six of them were federal marshals and deputies, the seventh was B. W. Garland of St. Louis, who claimed to be Glover's master. Glover resisted desperately the effort to arrest him, and was handcuffed only after he had been reduced to insensibility.

The kidnapers fearing to return to Racine, which was known as an "abolitionist hole", carried their manacled victim to Milwaukee, hoping the affair might be kept quiet until the negro had been safely delivered into serfdom. The news quickly spread, however. Sherman M. Booth, the abolitionist editor of the Wisconsin Free Democrat no sooner heard of it than he mounted a horse and rode up and down the streets of Milwaukee shouting "Freemen to the rescue! Slave catchers are in our midst!" Within a few hours an excited crowd of 5,000 citizens of Milwaukee had gathered to take counsel as to what should be done. From Racine there shortly arrived a steamboat laden with a hundred indignant men, demanding that the negro be given a fair trial.

Break Way Into Jail
The excitement became hourly more intense. Booth and other orators openly and eloquently advising a forcible rescue. The Milwaukee local militia was hastily ordered out to preserve order, but refused to obey the summons. Late in the afternoon a crowd surrounded the jail in which the luckless Glover was held, and battering down the jail doors set him free. He was quietly spirited away upon a schooner bound for Canada, where he safely arrived and at once became a free man.

STUBBORN COUGHS, COLDS AND BRONCHIAL AFFECTIONS RELIEVED

With Best Home-Made Remedy—128 Teaspoonful for 25 Cents.
If everything was sold in as liberal and fair a manner as Geo. E. Mariner's Drug Store is selling Schiffman's New Concentrated Expecto-rant, absolutely no cause for complaint or dissatisfaction could possibly arise from anyone. These druggists say "Buy a bottle of this new remedy and try it for Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Whooping Cough, Severe Cough, Croup or any Bronchial Affection, and we will return and make a whole family supply your money, just the same as we do with Dr. Schiffman's famous Asthma-dor, if it does not give perfect satisfaction, or if it is not found the best remedy ever used for any of these complaints." In addition to this guarantee, in order that the public might try this remedy without further delay, these druggists announce that they have decided to make an extra inducement and will sell 200 regular 50c size bottles for half price, 25c, to the first 200 persons who sign and present the coupon below at their store. Although they and the proprietor are losing money on every bottle sold at this price, they both have decided to stand this loss, so as to give those who have not yet used this excellent remedy, an opportunity of trying it, at their loss, knowing it will be found the best medicine ever used by anyone. Even though not in need of such a medicine at present, it will pay to obtain a bottle now at half price, as no doubt someone in the family will require it before the winter is over, but you will not have another chance of buying for less than full price.

One bottle makes a full pint (128 teaspoonful) by simply mixing it at home with one pint of granulated sugar and one-half pint of water, and as much as would ordinarily cost from $2 to $3 for the same quantity of the ordinary, old-fashioned ready-made kinds of doubtful merit and also without a guarantee, like this remedy. It is prepared from strictly harmless plants and is so pleasant that children like to take it and it can be given them with perfect safety, as it positively contains no chloroform, opium, morphine or any other narcotic, as do most cough mixtures. Absolutely no risk whatever is run in buying this remedy on the guarantee of the above well-known, reliable druggist.

If a neighbor or friend would take and pay for half the bottle, the cost of half a pint of this excellent medicine would only cost each about 12 cents.

TWENTY-FIVE CENT COUPON—No. 3.
This coupon and 25c is good for one (only) 50c bottle of Schiffman's New Concentrated Expecto-rant at Geo. E. Mariner's Drug Store, if your name and address is filled in.

AFTER YOU ARE FORTY

Forty is the age of greatest effort with most people. Vitality is used up at the most rapid pace. The struggle to secure a competence for old age produces nerve strain, the failure to succeed causes worry, nervous breakdown, neurasthenia. Middle-aged people find that they cannot run as fast, nor are they as agile as in youth. The internal organs also feel the effect of age. The digestion resents things that it accepted before, the heart palpitates on slight exertion, the muscles of the back ache after a day's work. Your blood is thinner and not so bright a red as formerly. When these things occur, whether you are fourteen or forty, you need a tonic. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills suit most people's need because they are non-alcoholic and they really build up the blood and strengthen the nerves. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are useful for growing children and for men and women whose nervous energy has been overdrawn. They are certainly worthy of a trial in every case of weak nerves and thin blood. Your druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes $2.50 by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Write today for free booklets on the blood and nerves.

Wives Are Also Flayed by Congressman for Disdain of Household Service

URGES UPLIFT OF FAMILY

On This Depends Strength of the Nation Says Representative in Talk at Y. M. C. A.

Neglect on the part of parents in the modern family to influence their children in following a higher standard of morals, dissipation and extravagance that exist in many families, ignorance which often leads to the divorce court, and the congestion due to the overcrowding of population in the large centers all came in for a round scoring at Congressman J. J. Esch's talk at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon. Fully 200 men were present, the crowds extending far out into the hall, and the meeting was pronounced one of the very best of the year. This was Mr. Esch's annual talk prior to leaving for Washington.

Traces Family Development
Mr. Esch traced the development of the family from its condition when first mentioned in Genesis to the unit of today, showing as he went that the family at the heart of a nation can be best used as the standard for judging the nation's degree of civilization. Being at the heart of every nation, it is of the utmost importance that it be protected and safeguarded both from without and within. There is the congestion in the large centers which utterly destroys the privacy of the home and makes for a low standard of morals, a condition which is being remedied to a certain extent by the housing movements which attempt to disintegrate the population; however, according to Mr. Esch, not nearly enough is being done to uplift the family of the tenement.

Scorn Household
The speaker declared that in many modern homes the wives and daughters are coming to look upon household service as servile and a thing to be avoided. The rapid increase in the number of divorces in the last decade, in many states one in every ten marriages is due largely just to this ignorance on the part of wives, a condition which should be remedied immediately if divorce is to be cut down and marriage looked upon as something more sanctified than a mere civil contract, Mr. Esch said. He also decried tendencies toward extravagance and dissipation on the part of the men in the household, and pleaded for the regeneration of the family worship, attendance of the household at church and Sunday school. Mr. Esch went on to show how the government of both the state and nation and society in general are co-operating to remedy these conditions by enacting the modern legislation affecting conditions which must of needs be changed.

Prof. James R. Kerr sang a delightful solo at the meeting. After singing by the assembly, Rev. E. C. Dixon led the men in prayer, and Rev. Klaus pronounced the benediction.

TRAVELERS ENJOY LATE TURKEY DAY

Representative Esch Explains How to Vote by Mail as Chief of Interesting Program

"Exquisite" was pronounced the banquet served to the United Commercial Travelers and their families at the Elks' club Saturday night. Members of the organization today said that it was about the best annual party of the travelers that they ever attended and were as enthusiastic over the excellent program as they were concerning the "eats."

Hon. J. J. Esch and Frank Blumenthal of Milwaukee were the speakers of the evening. Especially interesting was the talk given by Mr. Esch explaining the method of the absent voting law, a measure that the travelers have been interested in and working for a long time, as it affects their vacation in particular. The remainder of the program included vocal solos by Mr. Emil Niemeyer, Mr. Carol Robb, Miss Winifred Forbes and Miss Stella Trane, and numbers by a quartet composed of Miss Trane, Miss Ida McLean, Mrs. Percy Cilley, and Mrs. Harry Watkins.

Following the program dancing was the chief amusement and continued until midnight.

OLIPHANT IS TOO MUCH FOR MIDDIES

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—The Army mule reigned supreme on a slippery, foggy field here Saturday afternoon when the Navy was downed 14 to 0 in the annual football classic of the two service schools.

With President Wilson, Mrs. Galt, his fiancée, and cabinet officers among more than 40,000 spectators packed into the big stadium, the teams battled through one of the best games either has displayed in the entire season.

Oliphant, the former Purdue boy, downs and ripped and tore his way

HOW TO GAIN FLESH

Remarkable Statement of a Woman Who Was Nothing But Skin and Bones.

Laugh and grow fat is a homely saying, but Mrs. Elizabeth L. Morris of Hammond, La., tells of a more reliable method. She says:—

"I cannot say enough in praise of Vinol, for it saved my life. I was weak, nervous, run-down, could not sleep, was unfit for work and was nothing but skin and bones. Three doctors had all failed to help me. One day I saw Vinol advertised, took courage and bought a bottle, and it soon made me feel better. I continued its use and such a change! I have regained my strength, flesh and health, am perfectly well, and the doctor was surprised to see such a change in me in such a short time."

The reason Vinol proved such a wonderful strength creator in Mrs.
Morris' case was because of the pep-tone of iron, beef peptone and the extractives of fresh cod livers, without oil, combined in a pure native tonic wine, which makes Vinol a most wonderful tonic.

One Smashing Blow

Some folks go on for years wondering why they have headaches, nervousness, heart flutter, biliousness and various other ailments. But they never suspect a most common cause—coffee drinking.

Coffee contains caffeine, a powerful habit-forming drug. The little doses repeated daily irritate the nerves, unsteady the heart, hinder digestion and work havoc generally with many coffee users.

The simple, easy way to smash coffee troubles at one blow, is to quit the coffee and use

There's "nothing missed" with the change; and thousands have found it means a big step toward health and comfort.

Postum is made of wheat and a bit of wholesome molasses —has a rich flavor, much like mild Java coffee, yet contains no drug or other harmful element.

Postum comes in two forms: The original Postum Cereal requires boiling; Instant Postum is soluble—a level teaspoonful in a cup of boiling water makes a delicious drink—Instantly.
Both kinds are equally delicious, and the cost per cup is about the same.

CAROLINE BRENDUM
WEDS WESTBY MAN

WESTBY, Wis., Nov. 29.—One of the prettiest weddings ever seen in Westby, occurred at 7:30 p. m.
Thanksgiving eve, when the marriage of Miss Caroline Brendum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lindvig Brendum and Mr. George E. Lindvig of Westby was solemnized at the West-by Synod church, which was beautifully decorated with ferns and chrysbridal march was played by Mrs. R.

Nustad.

The bridal couple were attended by Miss Lily Brendum, Wilma Lindvig of Minneapolis, Mr. L. Melby and Mr. Clarence Brendum.

The bride was charmingly gowned in white crepe meteor, trimmed with silk overlace and pearl garnit-ure. She carried an arm bouquet of bride's roses.

Miss Lily Brendum, maid of honor, wore yellow crepe and Miss Wilma Lindvig, bridesmaid wore an attractive frock of pale pink satin.

Following the ceremony about 250 guests retired to Hotel Evans, where a reception was held and a sumptuous dinner was served. Smilax and chrysanthemums were used to beautify the tables.

A six piece orchestra furnished music. After the reception, the remains of the evening was greatly enjoyed by a dance at the Opera hall. The gifts were many pieces of costly silver and cut glass.

SPOTLIGHTS

CYRIL MAUDE OWN MANAGER

This season Mr. Cyril Maude, who is making an extensive tour of the country in his international success, "Grumpy," is under his own management. It is not as a novice that he assumes managerial duties, as for many years in London he successfully ruled the destinies of the Hay-market theater and the Playhouse, and while in control of these two well known places of amusement made notable a list of productions that proved successful both artistically and financially. In fact his record of achievement in London was such as would highly gratify the most ambitious management.

From those who have been privileged to know the man as well as the actor, comes the most sincere tributes to his admirable qualities as a companion and friend. He possesses great personal magnetism and has a most charming manner. For his associates of the theater he has ever the utmost thought and consideration. Tacitful to an extreme degree, he is, in rehearsal, able to obtain the results that he desires, without apparent effort. His voice is never raised and anger is a passion that he has never experienced.

Mr. Maude's present tour will embrace the principal cities of the middie west and the Canadian northwest, and his supporting company will be identically the same as that he had at the Empire theater, New York during his very successful engagement at that house this fall. La Crosse theater tomorrow night at 8:15.

La Crosse, 34; Madison, 0.
Totals—La Crosse, 235; opponents, 3.

This is without doubt the best record ever made by a Red and Black team and is by far the best record in the state. Riverside of Milwaukee totalled 177 to their opponent's 9, a record which, while it places them second beyond question, furnishes no basis upon which to dispute the claims of Horne's team. Portage sends up the wail of non-consideration because they have not been defeated by a high school of Wisconsin but their record is hardly to be considered. They were defeated by Wayland Academy 53 to 0, which was in turn defeated by Milwaukee North which bowed to East 21 to 0. Compared with La Crosse they are also far below championship standard, as they were only able to defeat Sparta 24 to 0, showing a difference of 38 points between the two teams.

The Former Records
Last year Horne's men also made a wonderful record totalling 288 to their opponents 13. But one touchdown in two years has been scored against the teams of La Crosse, that in the Sparta game of last season when McConnell squeezed over after a successful forward pass although he was tackled and should have been held which would have kept the La Crosse goal line clear. The only other scoring done last season was made on drop kicks in the Eau Claire and Winona games. This year Shealy of game of the season with Sparta. In this game the old style was again reverted to and Sparta, who were the logical claimants of the championship, were given an awful scare. Since then he has drilled his teams, uncovering his stars as he goes along, with the old, more even style with the big results already given.

BARRETT AND MAHAN UNANIMOUS CHOICE FOR ALL-EASTERN

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—The close of the eastern football season finds a wide variance of opinion among close followers of intercollegiate play regarding the final rating of the leading eleven and the players to be selected for the mythical all-eastern team. Certain players, such as Barrett of Cornell and Mahan of Harvard, are unanimous choices, but in other positions a half dozen candidates are put forward, all having excellent claim for consideration.

While all those who have prepared all-eastern teams have not been heard from, the consensus of opinion to date shows the following players in the lead:

Ends—Soucy, Harvard, and Higgins, Penn State.
Tackles—Gilman, Harvard, and Abell, Colgate.
Guards—Spears, Dartmouth, and White, Syracuse.
Center—Peck, Pittsburg.
Quarterback—Barrett, Cornell.
Halfbacks—Wilkinson, Syracuse, and Hastings, Pittsburg.
Fullback—Mahan, Harvard.

BUCK IS CHOICE FOR TACKLE ON THE ALL-WESTERN

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—Good football backs were plentiful but good line men scarce in the central states, according to critics who assumed the task of picking all-western teams. In the selections available the following have received the greatest number of votes:

Ends—Chamberlain, Nebraska, and Baston, Minnesota.
Tackles—Buck, Wisconsin, and Shull, Chicago.
Guards—Fitzgerald, Notre Dame, and Dunnigan, Minnesota.
Center—Watson, Illinois.
Quarterback—Russell, Chicago.
Halfbacks—Maulbetsch, Michigan, with Rutherford, Nebraska, and Macomber, Illinois, equally divided.
Fullback—Bierman, Minnesota.

BOWLING

Few changes in the percentages of leading clubs in the City Bowling league have been noted during the last two weeks. The Gunds, with nine games won and none lost, lead the league, with the Maders next with .833. The Nelson Clothing company bowlers are third with a percentage of .667.

Wiltinger holds the single game record of 244, while William Bonadurer holds high score for three games—640, an average of 213 1-3.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy.

Just the kind of book to be read by young people and old. It sets the proper aspect upon life, and emphasizes the things that are really worth while.

EUROPE ANTIDOTE FOR OPPOSITION TO PREPAREDNESS

Victor Murdock Says the Old World Furnishes Example to Ponder Over

BY W. S. FORREST

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
LONDON, Nov. 29.—As the surest cure for anti-preparedness views, a visit to Europe is Victor Murdock's prescription. The Kansan is here for a several months' stay, gathering material for a series of magazine articles.

"I've been in England three days now," he said, "and I must say I am astounded at the extent of Great Britain's present military equipment and the people's evident determination to win the war at any cost."

"Coming fresh from the United States, where peace talk is uppermost, I am strongly impressed by the utter futility of such propaganda."

"I find only indignation in both high and low quarters at any American attempt to force a conclusion of hostilities and universal ridicule of Henry Ford's plan."

Murdock admitted he feared Congressman Kitchin and "the anti-Wilson democrats" in congress may succeed in defeating the administration's preparedness program.

"They would be converted," he said, "if they would see the situation in England and hear the expressions on every hand of the conviction that unpreparedness alone was responsible for the allies' reverses early in the war, while it was purely by virtue of her complete preparation that Germany won her success during the first year of the struggle."

Murdock has already heard their preparedness views from a number of London notables. He will go to Paris later for interviews with the leaders in the French government.

SAN JOSE SCALE SCARCE IN STATE

Less of Tree Pest in Wisconsin Than in Any Other State East of the River

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 29.—"There is less San Jose scale in Wisconsin than in any state east of the Mississippi river," declared J. G. Sanders, head of the state entomology department today. He said that the principal places in the state where the scale had been found were Milwaukee, Racine, Kenosha, Whitewater, Beloit, West Allis and Madison. In all of these places by spraying the disease is being eradicated.

Professor Sanders declared there are 152 nurseries in the state that are inspected at least once a year and some of them are inspected twice a year. The inspection is being made so carefully that there is no danger of purchasing Wisconsin nursery stock affected with this scale. He urges all persons who purchase stock to buy of Wisconsin nurserymen, declaring that in many instances the disease has been brought into Wisconsin from the purchase of foreign stock.

"After the leaves are off trees affected with San Jose scale should be sprayed with a lime-sulphur solution," said Professor Sanders. "For an average tree this will cost about 10 cents."

The San Jose scale affects particularly apple, plum, peach, poplar, willow and dog wood trees and rose bushes. Where the scale has been found it has usually killed a tree in from three to five years. He estimates that one parasite will breed at least 1,000,000 in a single year. The other great pest to trees that the department has encountered is the cottony scale, which has been almost completely eradicated in Madison. In some of the cities along the lake shore this pest is now being treated with good results. In a number of cities having park commissioners a systematic campaign is being waged against the cottony scale.

RATE INCREASE JUSTIFIED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—The interstate commerce commission today held justified the proposed bituminous coal rate increases of approximately ten cents a ton over increases granted in the recent western rate advance case from Illinois mines to the west bank Mississippi river crossings and other interior trans-Mississippi points.

HUNTER SHOTS LYNX

WAUSAU, Wis., Nov. 29.—Louis Schmid of the town of Elkhorn shot and killed a Canadian lynx after an exciting hunt. He says there are two more lynx there and he hopes to kill them this winter. It is the first time Marathon county has paid a bounty for lynx.

FOREIGNERS IN U. S. BY SCORES TO FOSTER TRADE

More Than 20 Nations Represented at Washington Commerce Bureau

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 29.—More than twenty nations are represented by visitors to the United States who are now making their headquarters at the branch offices of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, Department of Commerce, and who are seeking new trade relations.

World Meet U. S. Half-way
Many of these men are members of foreign firms which are preparing to make purchases here. Others are representatives of big commercial houses and offer unusual facilities for our manufacturers to establish agencies abroad. Their earnest efforts to meet us half-way in producing a greater volume of trade with their respective countries are making easier the progress of American commerce in this year of opportunity.

Some of these advance agents of business are not confining their efforts to any one section of this country, for reports from the several branch offices of the bureau furnish details of tours which take in several of the principal commercial centers.

There are Results
Because of the foreign visitors flocking here the bureau is dealing directly with buyers as well as sellers, and bringing both classes of business men together so effectively that there are results—purchases of American goods and the making of contracts for agencies in other countries.

One example serves to illustrate the character of these important developments. An agent from abroad who has been introduced to firms in the United States by one of the branch offices of the Bureau represents both a wealthy land owner in Central America who is interested in numerous development projects, and a large commission merchant who operates throughout Central America and down the West Coast of South America, with an elaborate selling organization. Heretofore, the commission merchant has represented only the large European manufacturers, but they are shut out of the market by the war, and he has decided to push American goods.

Other interests represented are located in Australia, Russia, Italy, Argentina, Spain, India, China, Canada, Japan, South Africa, Bulgaria, New Zealand, Brazil, and several other countries. Each week during the present fall has added to the number.

Wide Variety of Market
There is wide variety in the classes of goods sought, including machinery, leather, clothing, the numerous lines making up the stock of a department store, textile products of all sorts, tools, and many other American manufactures. Two visitors from Russia have nearly completed the organization of a co-operative sales agency firm propping Russian interests. Their efforts were materially assisted by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce. At one of the branch offices, a meeting to launch the project was attended by fifty manufacturers.

The visit of the Bulgarian representative made an active canvass for American goods.

In all the negotiations that have been conducted and in those now in progress, the bureau has earnestly extended its co-operation. Its introduction of the agents report, have facilitated the transaction of business, because of the great confidence shown by business men here in the foreign representatives so introduced.

HERE'S A WOOD THAT WON'T FLOAT

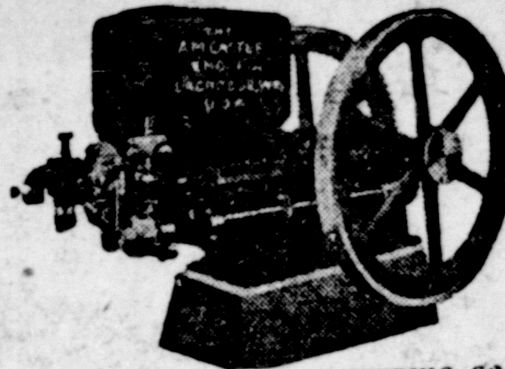

Teak Most Valuable of Woods for Backing Armor Plate and for Decks

The bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, department of commerce, has just published, in pamphlet form, an account of the teak market situation in two of the countries of southeastern Asia. The detailed information contained in it was gathered by Commercial Agent Franklin H. Smith during the course of his investigations into the lumber markets of the far east and Australasia.

Teak is one of the most valuable and interesting of woods. Teak logs when first cut will not float. It is strongly and characteristically scented, of oily texture, and the surface feels greasy to the touch. The oil is considered to resist the entrance of water into the wood and to prevent the wood becoming waterlogged after it has once been thoroughly seasoned. Teak darkens with age and finally, after a number of years, becomes almost black.

The principal use of teak is in shipbuilding, especially for decking and as backing for armor plate. Its durability and lack of corrosive effect on steel make it particularly suitable for the latter purpose. Teak has been used to some extent for gun carriages, but is not now considered well adapted for that purpose, on account of its splitting too readily. In India it is used for all purposes in house and ship building, for bridges, railway sleepers, furniture, shingles, etc. It is also used for carving, the Burmese carved teak wood being especially noted.

Mr. Smith's booklet, entitled "Teak in Siam and Indo-China," is No. 108 in the Special Agents Series.

RUSHFORD DODGES THE FESTIVE TURK

Prevalence of "Blackhead" Causes Most of Dinners to Eat Chicken on Thanksgiving

RUSHFORD, Minn., Nov. 29.—(Special)—Thanksgiving day, though dark and gloomy, as to weather, was passed in a pleasant manner by all Rushfordites. On account of threatening weather, not many from the country were present at the morning services at the Presbyterian church, which was the only one except the Episcopal, to hold special services. Family gatherings were the rule for the turkey dinners, though in most cases chicken usurped the prevalence of "blackhead" among the latter, few wishing to take the risk of purchasing them. Many people from our neighboring town of Houston were up to spend the day with friends and relatives.

Rushford Growing
That Rushford is growing and is also busy "putting on airs," otherwise improvements, is shown by recent figures given by the Tri-County Record. The sum total of the new buildings and improvements upon the old mounts up to the interesting figures of $81,200 and the end is not yet, if we may judge from the way lots are selling and the inquiries concerning building material.

Personals
Miss Flora Olson, a Rushford young lady who has been principal of the Kusko school at Winona and also has charge of the kindergarten work there, spent Thanksgiving day with home folks in this city, going on to Minneapolis Friday to visit there.

E. L. Sheldahl, poultry buyer of Rushford, has purchased the poultry and egg house in Lanesboro, but will make this city his residence, as formerly.

Miss Susan Worra and three brothers, who are staying in this city while the boys attend school, spent Thanksgiving with home folks at Highland.

John Alma of this city has purchased a refreshment stand in Winona recently.

Mr. Friesen, proprietor of the Northwestern hotel, has just returned from a short visit to his relatives in West Salem, Wis.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Krockow and Mr. and Mrs. Radke have been recent Peterson visitors.

Mrs. Sarah Stage spent Thanksgiving day with the Jabez Johnson family in Honey Creek.

Our local station agent, Mr. A. Eggen, has had installed at the depot platform a fine improvement in the shape of four strong electric lights.

Guy Pierce of Fremont was a business visitor in Rushford Wednesday.

Miss Clara Johnson of Mabel, is a guest of the Alfred Ness home on Ferry street. Miss Johnson will go from here to Rochester to consult with physicians in regard to her health, which is not of the best.

Miss Helena Olson, who has been attending the Winona normal, has accepted a three months' term of school at Bratsberg, Miss Olson arrived home in this city, from Winona last Wednesday.

PHILIPP SAYS HE WILL NOT OPPOSE LA FOLLETTE IN 1916

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 29.—Governor E. L. Philipp will not be a candidate for United States senator against Senator La Follette at the next election.

This is the assurance being given republicans all over the state by organizers for the Wisconsin Republican club. As the club is essentially a Philipp organization, it may be taken from this that the governor has abandoned the idea of running against La Follette and will be a candidate for re-election as governor.

Just what the idea of the conservative wing of the party is at this time, regarding a candidate for United States senator is difficult to say. However, that there would be a compromise between the conservatives and progressives is deemed unlikely.

The democrats are now getting busy with a state organization. At a recent meeting in Milwaukee, plans were made for the organization of "education clubs" of young men all over the state. Campaign speakers will be sent out to the clubs, starting shortly after the first of the year.

The meeting was attended by various county chairmen and Congressmen Reilly and Knapp.

It discusses the various grades and prices of the wood and the methods obtaining in the industry, and presents statistics of exports from both the countries visited. Five cents is the price of this publication, obtainable from the superintendent of documents, Washington, D. C.
